Privacy Policy

BlackBull Markets (Black Bull Group Limited) is committed to protecting your privacy and safeguarding your personal information. Our regulatory requirements stipulate that we must collect certain information from our clients and account holders. The following Privacy Policy governs how we handle and secure your personal data. We encourage everyone to read through our policy to better understand our commitment to your security. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact our friendly customer support or compliance department staff at support@blackbullmarkets.com or compliance@blackbullmarkets.com

Information Collected by BlackBull Markets:

The categories of non-public personal information which BlackBull Markets shall collect include;

1. Information provided by the customer when opening an account, or to process a transaction, such as name, address, assets, bank information, prior trading experience, etc.; and
2. Information used to verify the identity of the customer, including copies of government issued identification materials such as passports, drivers licenses, and credit reports; and
3. Information resulting from transactions between the customer and BlackBull Markets or an affiliate of BlackBull Markets, such as withdrawal and deposit forms; and
4. Information derived from customer's navigation and usage of BlackBull Markets website and online platforms, including account trading statements.

Usage of Personal Information:

BlackBull Markets will use the information collected from you to verify your identity and contact information. BlackBull Markets may also use this information to establish and setup your trading or demo account, issue an account number and a secure password, maintain your account, and contact you with account information.

Should you close your account, BlackBull Markets will retain your information, but only use it to comply with regulatory requirements and to periodically contact you to offer you the opportunity to reactivate your account or participate in other valuable offers.

Disclosed Information:

BlackBull Markets may share information with affiliates if the information is required to provide the product or service you have requested, or to provide you the opportunity to participate in the products or services our affiliates offer.

Except for the limited circumstances described below or as otherwise permitted by law, BlackBull Markets does not share or sell non-public personal information about our current or former customers with any third parties.

1. BlackBull Markets may share non-public personal information with Introducing Brokers for translation services. When Introducing Brokers provide translation services, we endeavour to protect such personal information by requiring those Introducing Brokers to enter into a Non-Disclosure Agreement with BlackBull Markets to safeguard the confidentiality of personal information.
2. When a client is referred by an Introducing Broker, BlackBull Markets generally shares non-public personal information concerning the account opening and maintenance process with the introducing broker who made the referral.

3. BlackBull Markets may engage another business or person to help us identify client and demo user needs and notify clients and demo users of product and service offerings. Use of the information shared is limited to the performance of the task we request and is not used for any other purpose. These third parties are required to enter into a Non-Disclosure Agreement with BlackBull Markets to safeguard the confidentiality of personal information before they provide such services. Examples of the types of information BlackBull may share are identifying information, such as, name, mailing address, e-mail address and telephone number and information on account activity.
4. BlackBull Markets may provide information to non-affiliated third parties, as permitted by law, in providing financial services to you. This includes a consumer reporting agency that prepares your credit report.
5. BlackBull Markets may provide information, as permitted by law, to government or regulatory agencies and to comply with a legal summons, court order, subpoena or a similar legal process, audit or investigation.
6. BlackBull Markets may also disclose your non-public personal information if you authorize such disclosure.

If you do not wish to have BlackBull Markets share non-public personal information with non-affiliated third parties pursuant to any of the provisions listed above, please opt out of those provisions by sending an e-mail to: compliance@blackbullmarkets.com. Opting out will apply for all financial products or services you obtain through BlackBull Markets.

Please note that you cannot opt out of any provisions if sharing of the information is required by law. Furthermore, opt-out election must be made for each separate account you hold at BlackBull Markets or with any BlackBull Markets affiliates.

Confidentiality and Security Procedures:

Only those staff members for whom the information is necessary to complete a given transaction shall possess the authority to access the information. BlackBull Markets, its personnel, and its affiliates shall strictly adhere to security practices and procedures to ensure the confidentiality of its customers' information.

BlackBull Markets maintains numerous safeguards that comply with government regulations to guard your non-public personal information including the use of encryption technology, firewalls and authentication systems (usernames and passwords).

BlackBull Markets will continue to protect the privacy of former customers' non-public personal information in the same manner as when they were customers. Unlike current customers, however, former customers will not receive annual privacy notices.

BlackBull Markets will provide a notice of change for any alterations to our privacy policy when necessary, as long as the customer maintains an account with BlackBull Markets. BlackBull Markets reserves the right to make changes to this policy. Policy is permanently available at:
